Summary of the Event		On National Science Day, the ISTE Club explored the Indian Institute of Millet Research to understand millets, their types, and their processing for market distribution. Millet Types: Overview of diverse millet varieties, highlighting nutritional benefits. Cultivation and Processing: Insights into sustainable farming practices and detailed processing techniques.

	Emphasis on millets as a solution for malnutrition and promoting a healthy lifestyle. Observations: Witnessed the seamless integration of traditional farming with modern technologies, promoting eco-friendly practices. Variety Awareness: Understanding the adaptability of millet varieties to different environmental conditions. Processing Knowledge: Insight into millet processing, from harvest to market-ready products. Nutritional Impact: Increased awareness of millet's nutritional benefits and their potential for global health. The visit on National Science Day enriched the ISTE Club, in Understanding of millets, emphasizing their role in sustainable agriculture and nutrition. Information was from the Indian Institute of millet Research during the National Science Day visit.
